New update for Gold Rush! Anniversary" announced!

Cologne, 05-17-2024 – More than nine years after the last update, Sunlight Games has announced a new update for "Gold Rush! Anniversary". The update fixes small issues. It will first be soon released for PC on Steam and later also for iOS and Android. The update will also be released for all users who own the box version. The exact improvements will be announced with the release. In addition, another update is in development that will add new features to the game.

Sunlight Games' Marco Sowa-Israel about the update: "Gold Rush! Anniversary has always been a special game for us. Preparing an update for this now after more than 9 years since its release is absolutely great. Even if the update only fixes small issues, it was still a lot of work, as adapting to the latest version of the engine involved a lot of work. The plan is to release more features soon."

In Gold Rush! Anniversary players slip into the role of Jerrod Wilson and can choose between three routes from New York to California. Whichever route you choose, all routes offer numerous historical settings - from the Great Plains to the vast mountain ranges to the Panamanian Isthmus and Cape Horn at the southern tip of South America. On the way to California there are a variety of puzzles to solve and adventures to survive. Will Jerrod reach the west despite all obstacles?
